SANTIAGO, Chile (Reuter) President Salvador Allende signed a draft bill Monday night providing for nationalization of the country's giant copper mines and said that the American owners would he paid compensation.

The bill goes to Congress today and is virtually assured of passage since the country's largest single party, the Christian Democrats, have expressed agreement in prin-ciple with the ruling Marxists that the copper industry should be nationalized.

The bill would mean an extra $70 million a year in revenue for Chile. "This is not aggression against the North American people or against the United States government," Allende said. "We are going to pay com-pensation to the concerns."

After initialling the draft at the presidential palace, Allende told a huge crowd from the balcony: "The pay-ment of compensation will be over 30 years and with three per-cent yearly interest with-out adjustment, and it will be suspended if the affected (companies) obstruct nationalization.' But he warned that it was possible "an international con-spiracy may be unleashed" and he called on the Chilean cople to be on guard. Allende said the government will continue to sell copper, Chile's main foreign currency earner, to traditional markets in Europe and the United States.

U.S. Oil Imports Increased

WASHINGTON (CP) -President Nixon issued today a proclamation increasing 1971 oil imports by some 100,000 barrels a day, much of it from Canada.

The proclamation made a series of adjustments in oil import regulations which have been in effect since 1959.

From the Canadian view, anti-climactic that greater oil imports from Canada in 1971 had been announced earlier at the announced earlier at the United States-Canada ministerial meeting in Ottawa last month and in Nixon's Dec. 4 speech in New York on the U.S. economy. George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, said Tuesday that imports from Canada, now limited to 395,000 barrels a day, would be increased by 55,000 barrels to a new authorized rate of 450,000 55,000 barrels.

This 55,000-barrel increase had been the figure recom-mended earlier by Lincoln's office. In addition, importers unable to use their quotas or "tickets" for other foreign oil may apply them to imports from Canada. Nixon had announced this new arrangement in his New York speech. In practice, Canadian im-orts will effectively be limited to pipeline and trans-portation capacity. This was the only limitation mentioned the Ottawa ministerial ks. Addition Planned For PGE Line

New Track Will Cost $17 Million

VANCOUVER (CP)-Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced Monday that the British Columbia government - owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway will call tenders for construction of 100 miles of new line north of Takla Lake, 450 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Cost of the extension will be about $17 million, the premie said following a meeting with the PGE board of directors Mr. Bennett is president and chairman of the railway.

He said his objective is no only to open up the rugged wilderness country, but also to increase employment:

Asked if the latest step in the PGE's northward march is another hint that he would like the Yukon to join B.C. Mr. Bennett said:

"I've withdrawn that offer."

WITHDRAW OFFER

He said the offer was withdrawn at the last federalprovincial conference when Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau displayed a map of Canada that showed Yukon separate from B.C.

The premier said Mr. Trudeau pointedly explained that e map showed the ovince's true size and place in Canada.

"Then I withdraw the ffer," I told the prime minister," said Mr. Bennett.

At an earlier conference in ttawa, the premier had presented a map on which B.C. took in the Yukon and part of the western Northwest Territories. The enlarged province would have been one of five new regions replacing the present 10 provinces.

NORTHWEST PUSH

Mr. Bennett said the PGE now has been extended north-west of Prince George into Fort St. James and construction is under way to Takla Lake, 78 miles northwest. This section is to be completed in early spring.

The latest northwest exten-ion will take the line to rill take the line to about 140 miles of Dease Lake, ultimate destina-tion of the line, and 75 miles south of the B.C.-Yukon border.

Mr. Bennett predicted the Dease Lake terminus will be completed in 1974.

He also announced that the board had confirmed an increase in PGE pensions, both retired and for employees who contribute to a purely ceremonial post. the voluntary pension plan.

Gomulka Blamed

WARSAW (CP) - A Com munist party newspaper charged today that under Poland's old regime the country was ruled by one-sided commands and a narrow circle.

The paper did not mention the name of Władysław Gomulka, the Communist party chief who stepped down Sun-day on the heels of bloody rioting by workers. But it was clear he and his close asso-ciates were the targets.

Party newspapers had been blaming the riots on "hooligans and adventurers" but now they were putting the blame on Gomulka.

"Everybody should feel re-sponsible for what he's doing," said Zycie Warszawy, or Warsaw Life. "But there is no responsibility without in-dependence: He who says, 'I am taking the full responsi-bility,' releases the others from it. He who says, 'I always know best,' releases others from the duty to think. MAY RESIGN

The new leadership is composed of 'people who get things done,' said one Western source, 'although the leadership will probably be more collective until Gierek finds his feet. Gomulka was patriarchil He didn't like to anybody and would make his decisions alone.'

Gierek replaced Gomulka Sunday as first secretary of the Communist party and five new members were named to the 12-m an politburo, replacing Gomulka and four others purged with him. Although Gierek promised an overhaul of the economy and revision of the new fiveyear plan, Warsaw radio said Monday there will be no retreat from the 17-to-20-percent price increases which last week set off the riots that brought Gomulka down.

"We must be aware of the fact that there is no possi-bility to return to the pre-vious anomalous state of the price system," the govern-ment radio said. It added that the new regime will carry out central committee orders to alleviate the economic problems of poor families several children, and with heightened expectations wage increases to offset the price rises.

Leonid Brezhnev, Soviet Communist party chief, sent congratulations to Gierek and pressed the hope that the Polish party "will successfully overcome the difficulties which recently occurred. The message praised the new first secretary as a "sincere friend of the Soviet Union." Westerners speculated that VIOLENT REACTION AGAINST authoritarian control which in the past has surfaced in East Germany, in Hungary, and in Czechoslovakia, has now erupted in Poland. Although ostensibly touched off by public resentment against sharp pre-Christmas increase food and clothing prices, the Polish outbreak must have its roots in widespread and accumulating anger against the living conditions imposed on the population. The price increase appears as the final act of many which led to public rebellion.

Although the meagre Communist news reports played down the rioting in Gdynia, Gdansk and other northern Polish centres, it is clear that the uprising has been serious. The leader of the Polish government and four of his colleagues would not be purged merely because a few "hooligans" had demonstrated in the streets.

It is obvious to the Communist authorities that the Polish government faces a visceral problem. They have recognized that only a dramatic purge of scapegoats would satisfy the protesting people. Part of this action will include denigration of the ousted leaders, and it has already begun with the description of Mr. Gomulka's price increase as an "ill-considered economic policy."

The irony is that 14 years ago Mr. Gomulka achieved prominence and public praise for his liberalization programs and his courageous stands against Russian pressure. Subsequent years of political power disclosed him as increasingly subordinate to Moscow's wishes, and correspondingly less popular at streets can be kept under control. The deployment of tanks, the use of curfews, the apparent relaxation of the Soviet grip, and the later reemphasis, when the immediate emergency is over, of Moscow's domination - these have become a familiar chain of events behind the Iron Curtain.

But the essential nature of these recurring upheavals should impress the Soviet leaders with the trend of this century. What began more than 50 years ago as a revolution to liberalize and free the common people long ago solidified into the most granitic, repressive form of government on earth. But the world has moved; there are tides abroad which Marx and Lenin never could have foreseen.

The emancipation of the people, which Marx and Lenin could conceive only in terms of violent revolution, has proceeded throughout the world as social change, economic change, technological change, of a different nature. There is much still to be done before Utopia is reached. But the Russian experiment under the present and past leadership has shown itself to be on the wrong track. It will become a backwater in the stream of world progress - like Spain's military dictatorship or South Africa's apartheid - if it is not soon re-organized and re-directed. Every Soviet satellite has had its clear demonstration at one time or another. Russia, the homeland, is itself experiencing an increasing intellectual unrest under bureaucratic restraint. A competent, far-seeing leader might turn the whole situation to good account and give Communism a new and valid place in the world's social progress. But the system, by its nature, does not tolerate change, nor breed leaders who can initiate it.

CURIOUS FACET OF THE hazard for children who drank the nuclear test ban treaty of 1963 milk.

Americans who are affected by the explosion, to however small a degree, will have cold comfort reflecting that the atomic debris showering upon them is "legal." And, of course, should the debris reach Canada in measurable quantitities a treaty breach will have occurred and this country's outcry (not to mention that of the Soviet Union) will be predictable and justified.

But, however safe the debris that affects people in the path of the fallout and however "legal" or "illegal" the fallout along the way, there can only be sad amazement at the inability of men to stop this ceaseless drive to achieve a false security by mechanical methods which only prompt competitors to follow suit. We should face the fact that our mental habits need drastic reform if we are to survive a dreadful human environment which is our own creation. Our minds are the primeyal jungles of today.

Costs and Community School Use

... As the Gentle Rain From Heaven ...

THE PUBLIC OF GREATER Victoria has been reminded the school board that its excellent program for community use of schools after regular class hours can be expensive. Trustee Peter Bunn, a staunch advocate of such community use, has presented a few facts

Extra expenditure is entailed in janitorial services and repairs for school rooms, grounds and auditoriums. During the 1969-70 terms, Trustee Bunn says, costs of evening use ran $45,075 above the nominal fees charged to the users.

That is not a very large sum in comparison with the annual schools budget. But if fully charged against groups that use the school premises after hours the individual payments might be enough to bar some of the most deserving groups from the schools.

If wider use of school facilities is to continue - and there is little argument against this trend, provided the users take reasonable care of the property - an equitable basis for joint financing should be worked out. There is a limit to the extent of public subsidies, but at the same time the public should also be getting the maximum use out of the expensive buildings it has provided.

A Doubtful 'Clearing' of the OPP

A CCORDING to the newspapers, Mr. Justice Campbell Grant of the Ontario Supreme Court has "cleared" the Ontario Provincial Police of any improper relationships with anyone, including certain alleged Mafia personalities. The Attorney-General, Arthur Wishproclaimed that the judge's thorough and exact" inquiry has "cleared the air"; the Commissioner of the O.P.P., Eric Silk, says it has found his force to be "completely clean," and even the man who started it all, Dr. Morton Shulman, is saying that perhaps everybody else is right and he is wrong and he should quit political life.

In the face of such unanimity, a murmur of dissent seems almost presumptious. Yet the administration of justice, and particularly the possibility of its being contaminated by organized crime, is surely important enough that this report cannot be accepted so uncritically; indeed, as I hope to show, it is a good illustration of just how inadequate is our present machinery, political and administrative, for dealing with organized crime.

In the first place, Mr. Justice Grant's conclusions were foregone conclusions He could have written them before he even started his inquiry because he was asked by the government to investigate allegations that Dr. Shulman never made. When Dr. Shulman tried to correct this during the hearing, the judge in effect ruled him out of order. To this extent, therefore, the whole thing was a phony, deliberately set up by the government to make Dr. Shulman look

What Dr. Shulman told a legislative committee last June was that certain senior O.P.P. officers were remarkably friendly with George Clinton Duke, a wealthy Oakville businessman who boasted of his influence with the police, who had a serious criminal record of many years ago, and who had certain connections with one John Papalia, Donald "Red" Le Barre, and Danny Gasbarrini, all of the Hamilton area. He never said anyone in the O.P.P. was improperly mixed up with criminals, which is what the government asked Mr. Justice Grant to report upon.

Missed Major Point

Putting the worst possible construction on Dr. Shulman's thesis, the public issue was whether Mr. Duke was being used, knowingly or unknowingly, by criminals to "patch" the O.P.P. — that is, to suborn key officers into supplying favors and - or information in certain situations. This is what Mr. Justice Grant should have investigated but he never came closer than a country mile

Even so, his report hardly justified the description of "clearing" the O.P.P. which has been ascribed to it. It takes some searching, but the judge did find at least two occasions where senior officers had successfully, and improperly, interferred with Highway Traffic charges against Mr. Duke to get them withdrawn, or reduced; that they "indiscreetly" accepted gifts from Mr. Duke: that one of them compromised Commissioner Silk by having him visit the Duke home, without telling him of Duke's record; and that two of them disobeyed the Commissioner's subsequent order to stop socializing with Mr. Duke.

Conversely, the report is remarkable for what Mr. Justice Grant did not find out. He mentions almost in passing that Papalia and Le Barre twice visited Mr. Duke at his office, and Papalia once at his home. He gives no explanation as to what they were doing there, other than explain why Mrs. Duke went to see Chief Leonard Lawrence of Hamilton to say she was in fear of her life

He never discusses Mr. connections, if any, with Papalia, Le Barre and Gasbarrini, other than to imply they couldn't have been much because a private detective hired by Mrs. Duke in 1967 to follow her husband

"never saw Duke with any of them" over a period of three years. In fact, Mrs. Duke suspected her husband (correctly) of philandering and had the detective follow him only when he was away from home. His surveillance was at best intermittent; it would have been strange indeed if he had seen Mr. Duke with Papalia in 1967, because Papalia was not released from Lewisburg Penitentiary, where he had served five of a 10-year sentence for conspiring to import heroin into the United States, until Jan. 26, 1968.

The Grant report is full of questions which are left hanging in the air in such fashion. Many officers in the OPP knew privately over a long period of time that Clinton Duke had a record. But the Central Records Branch at OPP headquarters contained nothing on him until Dec. 29 of last year, and then only as result of the record's being published in the Oakville newspaper. There is no explanation in the Grant report for this omission - a rather key one since numerous witnesses testified at the inquiry they would have handled things differently if they had known Mr. Duke had a record.

Commissioner Silk did not learn of it until Aug. 27, 1969, at a conference with senior officers who were "discussing the Duke home". This was almost five months after Mr. Silk had visited the Duke home. There is no explanation in the report why an innocuous social visit, as it was then regarded, should be the subject of a police conference five months later.

Offences Overlooked

On Dec. 17, 1969, Mr. Duke was bound over to keep the peace regarding an Oakville woman he had threatened with a gun, which order directed him not to have in his possession outside his home any firearms for a period of six months. June 9, 1970, his car was in an accident and a 30 caliber rifle with 70 rounds of ammunition was found under the front seat. No charge was laid, nor was his peace bond forfeited. Justice Grant gives no explanation; indeed, he does not even tie the two events together in his report.

Most curious of all, however, is his treatment of the "missing tickets", in which a charge of careless driving against Mr. Duke was not proceeded with because copies of the investigating officer's ticket disappeared - "put out of the way." according to Justice Grant from an OPP "In" basket, with the result that a summons was never issued.

The judge concluded that A. M. Rodger, the senior officer in charge and a close friend of Mr. Duke, had made it clear to all concerned that he did not think the charge should be proceeded with. But he said Rodger had good legal arguments for so thinking and cited lengthy legal support for that view. Who stole the tickets, and why, never gets explained.

This is the kind of inquiry one must expect, perhaps, when judges get appointed commissioners to investigate anything. They do not have the talent or disposition for it; they are too accustomed to weighing only the evidence that comes before them, rather than seeking it out. If it is not presented to them, they assume - as they must, when they are sitting on the bench that it doesn't exist.

The government, of course, will prate that the Grant inquiry revealed nothing. But it also answered nothing: more than ever, the public interest requires an investigating mechanism free of the political and procedural limitations which turned this inquiry into a farce.

Pravda: A Travesty on Truth

THE name of the most prestigious newspaper in the Communist world which means "truth," and Pravda has published in the last few days a savage editorial against its Nobel Prize winner, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, describing him as "a spiritual emigrant hostile to the whole life of the Soviet people." When an American reporter goes Pravda and talks to the men who publish such things, the contrast between the rds at first prehensible. The editors are highly intelligent Some of them have spent a great deal of time in the free atmosphere of the Western world. They are technically proficient in the production of a daily newspaper, and they show genuine compassion for the suffering of individuals and nations, particularly within their own particular political empire.

But the paradox remains: Why do they talk so confidently about the power and human truth they have discovered in the Communist system, and are yet so call a little band of renegades peddling poisonous rhetoric for "whisky and cigarettes"

No doubt Solzhenitsyn is a spiritual emigrant from the Communist system, with its fierce opposition to intellectual dissent, but if he is "hostile to the whole life of the Søviet people," why is there a problem, unless perhaps the Soviet people do not like their life as it is?

To be frank about it, a visitor here does not feel that the people are less happy about their lives than they have been at any time since the last war. Their patience is almost beyond under-standing. One watches them in the new supermarket in the aspiring new skyscrapers along Kalinin Prospekt, buying more and better food than they have had at any time in the last quarter century. They are better dressed, and shod, with the help of increased production and a new import program, and wherever there are things to sell, they seem to have money to buy. And there obviously a growing middle class and even an official and artistic upper class here, which enjoys the pleasures of the theatre and the concert hall and even the luxuries of owning country property and passing it on to their children A visitor cannot speak of life beyond

Moscow, which is quite a lot of Soviet life, but here there is obviously progress and pride in progress, and what looks like a genuine if weary acceptance of authority, stability and the necessities of plain living. Why then the official fuss over Solzhenitsyn? Why, if he and the other dissidents are such a despised rag-tag clique, spiritually isolated from the mass of the Soviet people, are they so important? One understands the vicious comments about them at the Foreign Office, and the almost paranoiae condemnation by officials of American correspondents in Moscow who write about them for the dissidents are questioning "the system" - but why at Pravda?

Because Pravada is not "truth," and these intelligent and even friendly men giving me tea and biscuits in the editor's office are not journalists in the Western sense, but officials distributing not their own search for truth but the government's propaganda.

Terrified of Freedom

Because, one thinks, maybe they are not so sure that Solzhenitsyn is really "hostile to the whole life of the Soviet people" but only hostile to the rigid spirit of the government. Maybe here, as in Czechoslovakia, they are merely terrified of freedom, and that the spirit of the dissidents, if the people heard it, would challenge their authority. Maybe in short, they know what they are doing or paradoxically, that they have finally made it as a great nation, and, despite all their boasting, don't know it.

But the editors at Pravda don't really deal with treasonable thoughts like this. The editor, Mikhail Zimyanin, is a remarkably interesting, vibrant man, whose speech is as direct and uninterruptable as machine-gun-fire, but he does not operate in the ambiguous realms of "truth." He is a former leader of the Soviet Partisans during the last world war, a former Soviet Ambassador to North Vietnam, and now a member of the Soviet Central Committee, who runs a transmission belt of Soviet propaganda world.

Is it even good propaganda to savage Solzhenitsyn as a "spiritual emigrant selling his wares for whisky and cigarettes? In the world, no; in the name of "truth," certainly not. But for the editors of Pravda, the Soviet Union is the world that concerns them most, and even here, telling the people that Solzhenitsyn is "hostile to the whole life" of the Soviet people" is rather a risky

California Pollution Wiping Out Wildlife

Chemical calamity and human greed are stripping the once heavily-colonized California coastline of marine and animal life. sea otters have been all but annihilated. The pelican and cormorant population are in danger from pollution. Scores of seals have been washed up beaches in recent weeks dead of a mysterious disease

The most immediate threat is to sea birds. Some colonies threatened with extinction, others are dwindling but experts have not yet been able to measure the scale of the danger with enough pre-The killer is almost certainly DDT, plus a galaxy of industrial pollutants and Lonely, barren Anacapa sland — officially a "national monument" of the coast 50 miles north of Los Angeles has long been the haunt and nesting place of flocks of brown pelicans, ungainly, charming birds that delight Californians with their diving antics and Disneyland looks. Some months ago the colony there was found to be laying thin, and chalky that broke before they could hatch.

Recently, zoologists dis-covered the plague had spread. Herons and egrets at Bolinas Point, north of San Francisco, and the murres - on the Farallon Islands were also failing to lay hatchable eggs. At the behest the State Agricultural Department, Franklin Gress a young University of California zoologist, began making expeditions from his Berkeley laboratory to Anacapa, Anacapa is uninhabited and waterless, apart from a brief spell in winter that brings a carpeting of many-colored flowers. Gress chose himself an abandoned pelican nesting place and perched high in the cliffs above the Pacific to observe the birds.

Through binoculars he noted that the pelicans took flight at the slightest alarm and aban doned their nests. From more than 550 pairs of breedin birds only four laid eggs with shells of normal thickness: all other eggs shattered.

Gress took yolk and shell samples back to his Berkeley laboratory for analysis and found that they contained extremely high concentrations of DDT residues and the industrial wastes called poly-chlorinated biphenyls. He considers it possible that the birds' neurotic behavior, their flight from the colony at any alarm, might be connected with a hormonal disturbance caused by the chemicals.

Returning to Anacapa weeks later, Gress found that one baby bird had hatched only pelican to be born in California this year. Surveying the Farallones later, he Scientists at the John Hopkins University marine station say record levels of DDT are being found in DDT are being found in sealions, an average of 1,350 parts per million. mercury poisoning This, from dustrial wastes, could be the cause of the kidney damage that is killing the beasts.

Another biologist claims Another boologist craft in state that the trouble is a micro-organism probably carried out to sea in sewage. It has never before been found in marine mammals.

A close relation of the sealion, the furry sea otter, once swarmed in tens of thousands along this coast. Today there are at most 1,200 alive, last survivors of a wholesale massacre on behalf

War on Otters

They have been protected from total extinction for some years by the State, but now commercial pressures are at work to lift the ban on killing. The ostensible reason: sea otters have a taste for the abalone, an edible, mother-of-pearl-shelled mollusc, and they are blamed for a fall in the local catch.

Pro-otter societies have been formed to stop passage of new legislation which, they say, could mean the end for yet another species. Between trappers and man-made the life of the sea shore is in trouble.

Yet the battle against the indiscriminate despoilation of the environment that began with publication of Rachel Carson's book Silent Spring is making headway. Conserva-tionists felt triumphant when last November, the federal government placed sharp re-strictions on the use of DDT and other pesticides in the chlorinated hydrocarbon

Legal Blockade

Although manufacturers immediately began a long series of complex appeals which could block effective action for years, many seem to have been convinced that the DDT business is doomed. Of the seven major com-panies making DDT, only one is still producing it — the Montrose Chemical Company. And they are in trouble: the Environmental Defence Fund has filed suit charging that Montrose is discharging massive quantities of DDT into the Los Angeles sewer

Other chemical firms are switching to weed-killers, but few are willing to begin costly research into the production of new pesticides. They fear that they may never receive official approval, and their image is so badly damaged with consumers that massive use of any bug-killer in the future seems doubtful. swing is to non-chemical means of pest control by biological methods, such as sterilization, the use of sex and food attracants and hormonal techniques.

Some Davey Report Musings From One of the Wretches

By ALAN FOTHERINGHAM

Not being the owner of a newspaper, and not in any immediate danger of becoming one, I no doubt view the Report on the Mass with a slightly different view (ho, ho, ho) than someone who is.

It's a curious report, full of obvious comments lowly lot of the ink-stained wretches, put down in the very catchy readable prose of Sandy Ross, himself one the oppressed.

But it's surprisingly lacking in testimony from the actual troops in the trenches. Sen. Keith Davey sat solemnly and stubbornly in Ottawa, hear-ing brief after brief from publisher after owner.

If you're going to have a Senate commission on pov-erty, you talk to the poor. If you're doing a Senate study of you gotta get out newspapers, you gotta get o and talk to newspapermen.

Finally — at the nagging of some of us — Davey did send an emissary afield to hear the complaints of younger repor-ters who, naturally, have a rather impatient view of the

But he never did feel the pulse of the trapped crew caught between campus and executive-land. Perhaps that accounts for a certain superficial quality to the main recommendations — "better described as exhortations, wistful wishes and expressions of earnest hopes," as the report itself puts it.

As one whose career has been marked by periodic lashings from the press, Sen. Davey is wisely rather wary of trying to impose govern mental restrictions on the media, which often is the real official opposition.

what the report lacks in final convictions is more than made up for by the indictment hidden in the basic research.

Two of the three volumes are devoted to dry figure and charts on profits, produc tivity, revenue, salaries and circulation pulled from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, tax returns and company

They make for an uncomfortable time, no question, for this here industry. It perhaps may seem incongruous comfrom a committee tors, but there is senators, accusation about the peculiar old-fashioned character newspapers-peculiar because we are the ones charged with we are the ones charged with reporting change.

Too many owners and broadcasters "seem to harbor a positive affection for the 19th century." Anyone who works for a newspaper knows how true is the "old-fashion-d' charge.

I suspect it has something do with the fact that newspapermen are essentially romantics. For some reason they abide "colorful" working conditions out of the past, outdated practices and unions that are often antediluvian in Davey talks about "the ndustry's astoundingly offhand approach to recruitment development unconcerned about the kind of people it attracts and the conditions under which they work, it would still be making adding machines. Too true. I can't see how newspapermen tolerate that the largest single group of Carleton journalism graduates are in public relations. When the flacks can seduce away amiss somewhere, it is blush-ingly submitted. It is the figures on profits which will be the most lasting portion of this report. Before-tax newspaper profits as a percentage of total assets, says Davey, are close to twice those found in other industries. In 1966, before-tax profits on equity were 27.5

year-olds, there is something

Owning a paper, Davey points out, can be almost as profitable as owning a paperbox factory or a department store. "If the brewing indus-try made profits half this large, and the people knew it, we suspect there would be sit-ins in the beer stores."

Now the obvious suspicion here is that all these ex-reporters working on the report, eager for their licks at the capitalist boss, have exaggerated these "astound-'—as Davey calls them— fits. The Office Boys' profits. Revenge syndrome.

But the facts and figures are all down here. If the newspapers can refute them had better get to work publicize any errors—as are forever editorially exhorting other groups who have their grievances with the published word.

The obvious conclusion is that newspapers can pay their employees more (hello dere, payroll.) Davey says a great m a n y Canadian reporters 'earn less than teachers, less than most skilled tradesmen, less than their counterparts in advertising, circulation and promotion departments, less than they themselves could earn in other pursuits for which their education and training equip them."

He gives a good back of the hand to the American Newspaper Guild which is forever demanding pay increases but

"I Beat The Old

"has taken no visible initiatives in the direction of improved standards and train-

He anticipates owners' objections by documenting how increases in productivity have consistently outrun inhave consistently outrun in-creases in wages and salaries.

And he concludes that "em-And he concludes that 'em-ployees are, in fact, subsidiz-ing the extraordinary profits which, as we have already shown, are being enjoyed by all but a few publishing and broadcasting enterprises." Right on, Keith baby, right

Davey explains why economground rules dictate that the newspaper business tends toward a condition of mono-poly in each locality—one of the reasons for the high profits. There's nothing that can be done about that.

But newspapers are not just another business. "What happens to the catsup or roofingtile or widget industry affects us as consumers; what hap-pens to the publishing business affects us as citizens."

Here's the nub of the study. The public, allowing for the relative monopoly situation and the high profits, is going to demand more of papers. More participation, more responsibility, more accountability.

This is the post-Nader world. Caveat emptor has been discarded. Now, in the age of the consumer, it's caveat venditor. — let the seller beware. Newspapers will no more escape this trend than will used-car dealers.

This report says "there is omething about that is turning people Right. Just as they are being turned off by other institu-tions, from the Roman Catholic Church to universities.

it's the time for accountability. No politician can get away with what he could 20 years ago. Industry, once supreme, is now accountable to the public and must justify expansion against the quality of life measurement.

The worth of the Davey report is that for the first time, the guts and the entrails and the embarrassing facts of the Canadian media are laid down for all to see. Accounta-

What is believed to be the first ordinance in the United States eliminating the sale of leaded gasoline was signed into law Monday by Mayor Frank A. Sedita of Buffalo,

The legislation stipulates that only completely lead-free gasoline be sold by 1980.

Robert G. (Bobby) Baker. central figure of Washington's top political scandal of the 1960s, has failed in a last bid to stay out of prison.

The Supreme Court Monday refused to review the decision of the U.S. Court of Appeals which upheld his sentence of one to three years after conviction on charges of income tax evasion, fraud, conspiracy and theft.

A man at Leeds prison today started the 335th day of a hunger strike against his conviction in January on two housebreaking charges. Ronald Barker, 29, is serving a 2½-year sentence, but is being force-fed with liquids each day and is in good condition. The previous longest hunger strike was 94 days by nine men in 1920.

accident in which one of its tags hit the main span of a Vancouver-area bridge causing extensive damage, the Supreme Court of Canada ruled Monday. Ignored Danger Signals

NEW YORK (WP) - Early in 1967, the 33 governors of the New York Stock Exchange attended an unusual screening of a motion picture produced by an accounting firm just for their viewing. The 30-minute film illustrated the bottlenecks which the firm had found in the back offices of its brokerage clients. The governors watched politicly, thanked the accountants—and did nothing.

Late in 1968, top officials of the NYSE were briefed by outside investigators who, in the course of probing another matter, found that one of the exchange's largest members was in severe financial trouble. The NYSE people ordered the broker to make up a plan to secure more capital and, until the crunch became almost lethal this year, did nothing else.

That, in a nutshell, typifies Wall Street's "self-regula-tory" response to the procedural and financial foul-ups that nearly wrecked the curities industry in 1969 and 1970. It has been slow-moving unwilling—or unable—to recognize emergencies, incapable of taking the definitive action called for, steadily postponing the inevitable.

were not—charged that neither the NYSE, which has primary responsibility for policing its members, nor the Securities Exchange Commission, whose Exchange Commission, whose actual power extends far beyond its mandated "oversight" stance, fully grasped the extent of Wall Street's erosion until very late. Even then, they add, while the exchange thrashed around in frantic efforts to hold faltering firms together, the SEC ing firms together, the SEC provided virtually no leader-ship.

It would be unfair to place all the blame on any indivi-dual, either at the big board or at the SEC. The crisis began when the commission was chaired by Manuel F. Cohen and reached its peak with Hamer H. Budge at the helm. The big board's first warning came when Keith Funston held the presidency and the most damaging effects were felt under Robert

W. Haack. Neither can Wall Street's institutions be fully faulted for the inaction that led to the crisis. While the organization of the NYSE, for example, does not lend itself to prompt action, it has been hampered by the self-centred attitudes of the membership and the

For most of the crisis period, the NYSE placed its heaviest reliance on the spe-cial trust fund and its guaran-lic investors would be protected in brokerage firms forced into liquidation. The trust fund, which started at $25 million and rose to $55 million when the exchange was forced to forego plans for new headquarters building, roved to be as much a firms to a quiet grave.

The trust fund was begun in 1964, following the bankruptcy of Ira Haupt Co. after the "salad oil scandal." Realizing that their business was just beginning to blossom and fearing a body blow to investor confidence from the $12 million bankruptcy, the governors assessed members for $10 million and established lines of bank credit for an

The fact that the exchange had the trust fund and could make payments to the pub-lic-neither the SEC nor the American Stock Exchange had funds for that purpose made it the top dog in any matter involving liquidation of firms. One condition attached to the fund is that the NYSE must appoint the liquidator for the firm. If the exchange it simply did not appoint the liquidator. Both the SEC and the AMEX could close firms. but both ran the risk of Irving Pollack, director of the division of trading and markets in the SEC, agrees that the trust fund gave the NYSE the upper hand in dealing with faltering firms. "We were lulled by the trust fund." Pollack says. "They (exchange officials)

Pollack also notes that, in ate 1967, analysis of com-daints coming to SEC indicated that paperwork pro-cessing in back offices—ulti-mately the chief cause of Wall Street's financial crisis— was becoming bogged down. "We wrote to 10 of the largest firms," he sais. "Nine of them said you can't hlep us, it's temporary due to the high The tenth listed the steps it had taken.

It was not until the spring of 1968, when complaints increased, that the SEC gave priority to back-office opera-tions. Historically, complaints from the public about undelivered securities have rung a bell at the commission, because they were a sign of illegal "bucket shop" operators. Checking the complaints, however, the commission found the developing back-office snari and started a broad probe, eventually inspecting the back offices of about 800 brokerage firms, according to Polleck according to Pollack.

By that time, the exchange also knew its members were in trouble. Early in June, the NYSE ordered all trading halted one da allow back offices to catch up on their paperwork. At that time, the value of undelivered securities stood at $2.67 mil-

Naturalists Want Ban On Any Industry at Lake

DUNCAN — The Cowichan Valley Natural History Society wants Somenos Lake rezoned to "rural restricted" classification.

Naturalists are concerned because the southern end of the lake is zoned for light

"Light industry in a water fowl feeding area isn't compatible," Stan Baker of Crofton at a birdwatching raily at the lake Sunday.

North Cowichan council recently banned hunting in the area after pressure from naturalists.

Since the ban there has been an increase of 2,700 ducks, ornithologist John Comer reported.

Comer, who contributes regularly to the Audubon Society's quarterly journal and is a society member said since the ban he has counted 1,000 widgeons, 900 pintails, 500 mallards, 200 mergansers and flocks of buffleheads, greenwinged teal, shovellers, lesser scaups and ruddy ducks.

Comer expects that by Christmas the mallards will increase to about 1,600. The pintails will also near that figure and the widgeons could total 2,000.

The local society, active for seven years, has more than 60 members.

"We have various branches," said Comer, who specializes in birds. "Many members are very active in studying marine life, birds, rocks and minerals."

Cowichan Hospital Praised As It Gets Accreditation

DUNCAN - Cowichan and District Hospital Board has been told by the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation that "the mark of an accredited hospital can prove as demanding as the trials and efforts leading to first Advising the board and administrative members of the accreditation, the council commended them for their response to the challenge of accreditation as "evidenced

John Hulbert, board chairman, explained they received provisional accreditation they applied for the first time last year.

"No hospital is ever ac-credited in the first inspec-

The hospital board plans to place an extended-care referendum before the Cowichan Valley Regional District in February. Hulbert said the site for the

Four to Compete For Trustee Post

DUNCAN - Four Duncan residents will compete for a city school trustee seat left vacant after the Dec. 12 civic Pulp mill employee Andy Anand, millwright Angus Fraser, hairdresser Oke Olsson and CPR agent G. D. Allester will speak at the first meeting next year of the Cowichan school board.

After their submissions, the eight trustees will pick one of them in a secret ballot.

A board chairman will be elected at the same meeting.

Rural trustee for the past two years John Stewart told board members Monday he declined to run for a second term because he is becoming a stranger to his family and he felt "more like a whipping-post than a trustee. "Every move we made we were either knocked down by taxpayer or the provincial government," he said, "At least the government seems to be letting up a little but the taxpayers certainly aren't." Retiring city trustee Ernie Goddard said the recently-defeated $602,800 building referendum should be re-submitted Goddard said a study should be made of the areas that defeated the referendum to find out why they are opposed.

"I believe that with concentrated effort taxpayers will

May we drive home

Winter driving, especially at holiday time, can be tricky. You keep your car in shape. You check your battery, tires, headlights and seat belts.

But how about yourself?

If toasting the holidays is part of the way you celebrate, enjoy your celebration, but enjoy it wisely. It's a good idea not to overeat. And the same goes for drinking.

At The House of Seagram, we've been driving home that point since our first Moderation message in 1934.

First Game Showed That Purple People Were Tough

By The Canadian Press

When the National Football League season opened last September, there was some suspi cion that the Purple People were ready to be eaten.

Minnesota Vikings, 23-7 vic-tims of Kansas City Chiefs in the preceding Super Bowl game, had to meet them again without Joe Kapp at quarterback and with Carl Eller, their all-pro defensive end, out of shape after rensive end, out of shape after reporting late to training camp. The morning of the game, coach Bud Grant showed the Vi-kings the film of the Super Bowl rout, just to refresh their memory. In the afternoon, Minnesota thrashed the Chiefs 27-10.

That started the club off to its second consecutive 12-2 season, the best in the NFL and a ticket to a home date with San Francisco '49ers Sunday in the first round of the playoffs.

Dallas Cowboys entertain Detroit Lions Saturday in the other National Conference semi-final. In the American Conference, Cincinnati Bengals visit Baltimore Colts Saturday and Miami Dolphins tackle the Raiders at Oakland Sunday.

"When we started off the season beating the Chiefs it got us off to a good start," said Minne-sota centre Mick Tingelhoff. "We just went to work from there on."

The Viking defence held the opposition to an NFL low of 143 points, intercepting 28 passes startled its critics by scoring 335 points, the third-highest in the league. Place-kicker Fred Cox accounted for 125 of them. a league scoring record.

Kapp, who came to the Vi-kings after a contract dispute with British Columbia Lions of the Canadian League, left them under similar circumstances

ton Patriots while Gary Cuozzo took over as No. 1 quarterback

The '49ers, who had to go down to the wire to edge Los Angeles Rams for the West Division title, were too happy about gaining their first playoff berth in history to worry about the frigid midwestern weather. They played the Vikings in a snowstorm a year ago and lost

'We'll just forget about the weather and play ball," said coach Dick Nolan, whose club compiled a 10-3-1 record.

Like Kansas City, which failed to make the playoffs, the Cowboys have reason to be Cowboys have reason to be wary of an opponent intent on

The last time Detroit quarterhack Greg Landry came to Dal-las he was starting his first NFL game and the Lions were trampled 58-13.

That was in 1968 and the Cow-loys have no illusions that hings will be the same Saturday.

"He has that experience now defences," and can recognize defences, said Jerry Tubb, their line backer coach, "He knows what ered. He's the best running quarterback in the league."

Both clubs have 10-4 records Dallas finishing with five con-secutive victories for the East Division title while Detroit made the playoffs as the run ner-up with the best won-lost

Baltimore, 11-2-1, expects to have the injured Johnny Unitas back at quarterback against Cincinnati, 8-6, in a battle of American Conference division

Miami, the AFC's top runnerup at 10-4, may face Oakland, Manny Fernandez, who has a shoulder separation

But the Dolphins barely missed their 250-pound lineman Sunday as they slaughtered Buffalo Bills 45-7 with quarterback Bob Griese continually varying his signal-calling cadence draw his opponents offside.

Coach Don Shula is not counting on the gimmick to fool the Raider defence, which he calls 'a tough, bump-and-run type that never gives you room."

"They're always tight on receivers and really challenge

Let's see now, when all this football madness began back in September, it was crystal clear in some quarters who would win it all. But that was in September, and with what proved to be an almost careless disregard for the sensitiveness of others, y'r agent humbly suggested who would be playing whom this Saturday and Sunday.

Well, the puzzle is over, and if anything is clear now it's that your agent if not always right, is never wholly wrong either. How's that for waffling? Or, if you wish, the selections at that time were Baltimore, Cleveland and Kansas City in the American Conference divisional races, and Dallas, Detroit and Los Angeles in the National.

That makes it three out of six with the help of the wild

The Lions actually were picked to beat out Minnesota, and actually might have done it too except for a couple of lost moments late in two games. Which is why faith will be propagated, and the Lions sustained for the moment.

It was the Lions, remember, who were victimized in New Orleans that memorable day when Tom Dempsey kicked a 63-yard field goal. You may recall the incidents leading to this fabled boot. The Lions had staged a spectacular rally to take a 17-16 lead with only 11 seconds to play. Then the Lions kicked off. Eleven seconds! The game was in the bag. But was it? With just two seconds to play Dempsey's foot hit the ball, and the Lions had lost. Some called it an angelic kick. The Lions had other words for it. other words for it.

The other stunner. That came just one week later. The Lions had played the mighty Vikings even and were leading 20-17. There was less than two minutes to play and the ball was at midfield, The Lions were in—almost! But no. Gary Cuozzo connected on a 49-yard touchdown pass and Minnesota had won game Detroit was unlucky to lose

Now the point of the story is that if the Lions had won those two games, they could have won divisional honors. As it is they can best be identified now as the club that had to win five in a row, four of those against divisional leaders, and the last against Green Bay, to capture that coveted extra playoff faltered badly at the end. Upstart Cincinnati came on strong with seven victories. This confounded all the experts. As expected, however, it was a two-team race between Oakland and Kansas City in their division. The difference? Oakland had George Blanda (and perhaps some help from above). Kansas City didn't, and didn't measure up as defending Super Bow champs, either. The other surprise was Miami. The Dolphins did a mid-season turn around and at least have momentum in their favor.

That explains Detroit, and probably writes off Los Angeles as well. For it was the Lions who knocked off the Rams when they had the western title in their grasp. Cleveland, which figured to be a cinch, had no excuses, and

The winners for this week? The mind boggles again, for not for long.

Cincinnati at Baltimere: Johnny Unitas, in this book is still the No. 1 quarterback in the business, and the Colts have too the No. 1 quarterback in the business, and the Colts have too much savvy and playoff experience for their expansion rivals

San Francisco at Minnesota: League records mean little when two powerhouses meet; and this could be a classic. The west coast fear is it may come up cold, and if it does, Viking coach Bud Grant's old cold-power approach may come to the fore. Still, quarterback John Brodie is having a fabulous year could change it all around for the '49ers. Minnesota in a real squeaker, by three.

Miami at Oakland: They should be throwing the ball all over the field in this one, if it stays dry, and it could be a high-scoring battle too. Miami has come on very strong in the latter part of the season, but Oakland often does the impossible with almost no time left to do it in either. Blanda . . . er Oakland,

Detroit at Dallas: If the deductions have been obvious up to now, this one should be a cinch. It should be except that Dallas is long overdue. So is Detroit, for that matter. But the game is in Dallas, confusing isn't it? The gamblers may have other odds to offer, but for consistency of performance as opposed to an explosive attack, that doesn't always explode. The nod here has to go to the Lions.

margin: Six points. So there you have it, the unabridged pre-Christmas version, completely devoid of sentiment, and if not right, not all wrong,

LINE COACH SHIFTING FROM LIONS TO LIONS?

VANCOUVER (CP) - The Province says Bill McPeak, offensive line coach with Detroit Lions of the National Football League, has been offered the job as executive general manager of the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football

It quotes McPeak as saying he was "very much interested" in the offer to fill the newly-created post with the club. He played for Pittsburgh Steelers between 1949 and 1957 and coached Washington Bedskins from 1961 to

Sports columnist Eric Whitehead says the club had considered hiring Eagle Keys, coach of Saskatchewan Roughriders, to replace Jackie Parker, Lions' coach, who would then become executive general manager, but this back-fired.

Feathers of Pigeon People Unruffled

LONDON (CP) - British transporting racing pigeons to ruffled the feathers of pigeon enthusiasts in Britain. The sport's staunch flock of supporters now will convey the valuable wings to race meetings by road, Maj. Leon-ard Lewis, a Homing Union secretary, said. "The sport will become more independent in future,"

Since the beginning of the British Rail and homing unions have worked together. Trains took large mbers of racers to country stations near meetings and railwaymen released them But after the closure of many of these stations 10 years ago Lewis explained, more owners were having to make their own way to meetings which had become inaccessible by Club races in Britain usually cover 400 miles and are held between April and Sep-tember. Here all pigeon rac-ing is governed by five homing unions — in Wales, Scotland, Ireland and two in England.

Lewis, who runs the Royal National Homing Union from country headquarters in Glou cestershire, estimates that pigeon racing here has a flock of more than 6,000 supporters, all of them either trainers or breeders. His own union has a membership of 3,000.

Pigeon racing was formed as an official sport in 1896 although races were recorded many years earlier. It is partly a traditional pastime, Lewis said, and he empha-sized that it is considered by its participants only as a hobby.

After the Steelers' game, Tose said he had no intention that the sports writers and. s portscasters misunderstood him. He never considered dumping Retzlaff, the one-time Eagles All-Pro end. Williams, former coach of Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League, said Monday "there is no doubt that progress has been made. There are certain things that have to be done, and I'm just going to leave it

Williams said he felt it was wrong to measure progress of a team by the won and lost column. He said statistics indicate the Eagles made relative progress in the last two seasons, despite records of 4-9-1 and 3-10-1. The Eagles, Williams said, still weren't masters of their own fate. They were still not good

Williams said he accepted his share of the responsibility for the entire Eagles' program, coaching, trades, drafts, releases, signing etc. "I certainly had a say. The decisions were not mine entirely, but I concurred in every more." every move."

New Library Head Named

Colin Richard Lucas, 51, a former Canadian citizen and director of the public library of San Bernardino, Calif., was today named by the Greater Victoria Library Board as its director of library services.

Lucas, born at Ocean Falls, B.C., takes over his duties March 1, replacing the former chief librarian, John Lort, who resigned at the board's request Nov. 1 after a controversial disagreement with the board on how the main library's services should be updated.

In making the announcement, board chairman Ald. Arthur Cuthbert of Esquimalt said that Lucas was chosen from 30 applicants—15 Canadians and 15 Americans.

Lucas, a naturalized American, has applied for Canadian citizenship, Cuthbert added.

Cuthbert said that Lucas, endorsed unanimously by both the selection committee and its technical advisers, will be given "full authority" to streamline and revamp library facilities and eventually recommend to the board his assistant

"We are all very impressed with Mr. Lucas" ability and he has already approved the alterations to be made in the library during its closure from Dec. 28 to 31."

Lucas received his BA and B.Comm. degrees from the University of British Columbia and his library science degree from the University of Washington.

After serving with the Royal Canadian Navy during the Second World War, he lived in Victoria from 1945 to 1946, working as a research assistant in economics for the provincial bureau of economics.

economics.

He has held various book publishing and library appointments in the United States, including that of deputy assistant state librarian for the Illinois State Library. He was appointed director of the Sunnyvale Public Library in California in 1960 and was responsible for its reorganization.

Lucas and his Vancouver-born wife have five children.

Lort's resignation was forced after a lengthy duel between him and the board over implementation of recommendations stemming from the controversial efficiency survey, made by the Vancouver business consultants firm of Woods,

Cost-Saving Steps Assured For North Saanich Hospital

North Saanich Mayor Jim Cumming told his council Monday night that Health Minister Ralph Loffmark is ready to approve cost-saving steps in planning the hospital to be built on Mount Newton Crossroad.

Plans call for the Central Saanich hospital to be built in two p h as es — 75 beds for chronic patients first and 75 beds for acute care patients

Architects for the job; pointed out recently that parts of the hospital will be used in common by both sections and it would save time and money to plan and build them into the first phase.

But such a procedure would push the cost of the extended care phase over the government cost-sharing limits.

PROBLEM APPRECIATED

Cumming said Loffmark had indicated to him be appreciated the problem and would approve planning funds for taking the entire project to the sketch plan stage.

The health minister also indicated that construction of the core areas which would serve both phases could be built as part of the first phase. The added cost this represented must form part of the price of the second phase which would still have to meet the government cost formal approach for such changes are still to be made to Loffmark and the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

Cumming, also chairman of the Capital Region's hospital

"But he has assured me he is completely sympathetic to the proposal and we will be able to proceed."

$100 Million Asked In Housing Assistance

Minister without portfolio Grace McCarthy today asked the federal government for up to $100 million in housing aid for B.C. in the wake of Monday's federal announcement of $150 million for Quebec housing

At this point, he became aware of two things. The truck doors were flapping open, and the rearmost organ was missing.

Our subject squared the block and headed back along Hillside.

Varied Methods Suggested For Roasting Turkey

EDMONTON (CP) nadians est more turkey per person than people in other countries, says Louise Starl-ing, Alberta agriculture de-partment district home eco-

"That's probably because it's delicious, nutritious, versatile and economical for us. Because turkey is traditional for many Canadian Christmas dinners, she has compiled some tips for cooking the festive bird.

• Allow about three-quarters of a pound for each serving if you are buying an oven-ready bird. This should give about five ounces of cooked meat per serving, although turkeys weighing more than 22 pounds may yield a little more.

• Allow one pound for each person if you are buyng an undrawn bird.

Thaw the turkey in the refrigerator or other cool place — about 38 to 45 degrees F. Allow about five hours for each pound of turkey for it to defrost.

at room temperature, but there is a danger of an offflavor developing as the sur-face warms up to room temperature.

 Do not stuff uncooked poultry before freezing and remove stuffing from cooked poultry and freeze it and the meat separately.

Do not roast your tur-key by putting it in the oven overnight at a low tempera-ture because this way heating occurs at a slow rate and the food remains for a long time at a range favorable to bacterial growth. Roast it at the proper high temperature for a shorter time.

Should you use an open pan, a covered pan, wrap the turkey in foil or wrap it in roasting film?

Miss Starling said the choice is up to the cook.

She describes the method to use with roasting film, relatively new heavy-duty film that is transparent and film that is transparent and lets you see the bird as it is

Basted With Steam

"Cut off the length of film you need and cover the food to be cooked. Tuck in the ends underneath and place the bird in a roasting pan so that the film is held firmly in

"It stays on through the roasting period — you don't take it off for browning."

She suggests using a higher roasting temperature, about 375 degrees, and allowing 15 a pound and 15 minutes over Another method is to place the turkey on a rack — for even heat circulation—breast side up, in an open roasting pan and cover with a light tent of foil, roasting film or several thicknesses of cheese-cloth dipped in fat. Use a 325degree oven.

A closely-covered roasting pan gives much the same effect as the wrapped-in-roasting-film method.

The turkey is self-basted with steam and this tends to give it a braised, rather than a roasted, flavor. This also occurs when the bird is wrapped completely in foil.

Miss Starling says many of these tips are based or research by the Poultry Products Institute of Canada which supplies booklets on cooking turkey. These usually can be obtained through provincial government depart-suit every family these days, so there's no need to have left-over turkey every day for a week after your holiday din-ner, says Aileen Whitmore, another consultant for the department. But larger birds usually are more economical and many families like to think of week-long turkey feasts and plan to have lots of

Break Into Pieces

"After a special holiday meal, the refrigerator or other cold-storage place usu-ally is over-crowded and tucking in a turkey carcass is a real problem."

But she offers some hints that combat this and also simplify preparation at a later date:

"Dressing should be re-moved from the turkey and stored separately. Dressing may take a long time to cool if left in the turkey and there's a chance that it will develop off-flavors.' She also advised breaking he bird up. Large pieces, such as drumsticks wings or such as drumsticks, wings or breasts, can be pulled off whole and wrapped in foil. These also can be frozen, but should be used within a month.

Smaller chunks can be wrapped separately to be used in casseroles, salads or for turkey a la king.

budget-stretcher if they are broken up and used for soup base within two or three days.

"Just cover bones with water in a deep kettle, add seasonings, a carrot, celery leaves or stalks and a piece of bay leaf. Simmer covered for $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 hours, then strain."

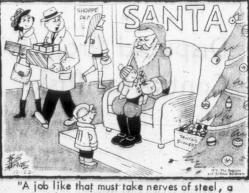

This basic broth can be used as the liquid in other recipes or you can add diced vegetables and serve as soup.

Mrs. Whitmore also recommends making a large nount of gravy and keeping this for left-overs, too.

It can be reheated for hot turkey sandwiches—something the family rarely gets except after a holiday feast.

Student Sit-In At Board Meets Being Considered

Trustee Dr. Victor Rogers Monday night urged the Greater Victoria School Board to consider having a pupil representative sit with the board.

He said it should be up to the students to pick their representative and that they should decide what grade he came from and in what manner he was elected.

Director of instruction Dr. John Wiens said the idea was being considered but that so far the mechanics of the process were a major problem.

"The idea is something we would like to implement — the question is just how," question is just how."

Jake Long more, district superintendent of schools, said the legislative authority of the Public Schools Act prohibits a student sitting on the board.

"Surely it's within our power and suredistricts to execut post-and surisdiction to co-opt non-voting members." Rogers said. He argued that the student would sit on the board "for consulting and discussion pur-

Trustee Alian McKinnon sup-ported Rogers' suggestion, He said he didn't "see anything in the School Act that would prohibit a student sitting on the board" in a non-voting capacity

"University senates have generally been improved by having students sit on them as yoting members," he said. Further consideration of the suggestion was deferred until next meeting of the board.

The board also passed a motion from absent trustee Daphne Temple encouraging the provincial government to establish a financial aid fund for nonniversity students.

NOTHING SIMILAR

It was pointed out that university students have access to the federal Canada Student Loan program but that students at colleges, vocational schools and other non-academic institutions have no similar program.

The school board also voted without discussion to include a $25,000 grant to the Greater Victoria Art Gallery in the 1971 budget.

The action was taken on the committee.

Committee chairman Harold Knight said a letter from the gallery outlining its financial difficulties and requesting a achool board grant had been considered.

He recommended the grant but pointed out that the gallery should be informed that "this grant is a special one only, not related to taxes, and they must not assume that regular annual grants will be forth the school board."

Acting on another recom-mendation from the finance committee the board approved negotiated agreement teachers' salaries for 1971. The agreement gave teachers a 7.7 per cent wage increase. In other business, the board approved an education committee recommendation that "a letter be sent to the library board offering the co-operation of the school board in attempting to establish a basis for joint use of the school and community library facilities."

Business Outcry Waters Income Paper

An outcry from business interests over proposed tax changes may have prompted the federal government to water down its recent white paper on income security, Esquimalt-Saanich MP David Anderson said Monday.

Anderson and 15 others representing low income, welfare and labor organizations, took part in a discussion on the white paper at St. John's Anglican Church.

Victoria Labor Council secretary Larry Ryan suggested proposals contained in the document which was presented to the House of Commons Nov. 30 were modified as a result of what he called the "hysteria" of busisess interests reacting to the ness interests reacting to the earlier white paper on tax reform.

Anderson conceded:
"This, I think, would have

Indians Represented On Board

VANCOUVER (CP) - British Columbia Indians made some progress during the weekend toward their objective of taking over the administration of their own affairs.

At a meeting of the council of the Union of B.C. Indian Chiefs, two Indian representatives were appointed to serve on the board which selects the regional direc-tor in charge of Indian agencies in B.C. and the Yukor Bill Scow of Alert Bay and Heber Maitland of Kitimat were nominated to the board. There have previously been no Indian representatives.

The chiefs also received assurances from Jean Bergevin, assistant deputy minister of the department of Indian affairs, that the government was "awakening to the problems of the Indians."

He said he would help B.C. Indians establish a companion

Indians establish a corporation, similar to those in other provinces, to dispose of their share of an economic development find

The department pledges $10 million a year for live years for Indian projects, a sum which Bergevin said was not much "when we consider the needs to be met."

Fenced-In

Saanich council made two decisions on fences Monday night even though the muni-cipal solicitor said the exist-ing fence bylaw is "of doubt-ful validity". ful validity."

A request from William Leach, 1908 Waterloo, sought permission to retain a fence 18 inches over the five-foot limit in the bylaw. Council tabled this for viewing.

In the second case, tabled earlier, council decided to require F. W. Sutton, 1581 Mileva Lane, to reduce his fence by about one foot to the five-foot limit.

The solicitor, in an opinion, ecommended that the fence bylaw be incorporated into the zoning bylaw because of its "doubtful validity."

Council endorsed his recommendation and will call a public hearing.

The Victoria area fares well comparison with other regions in air pollution.
The Capital Region has the air pollution categories but compares favorably with smaller centres on a ution-per-square mile many smaller centres on a pollution-per-square mile basis in important categories.

For instance, motor hicles in Victoria produce 185 tons of hydrocarbon emissions per square mile per year compared with 1983 in Van-couver, 261 in Kamloops, 333 in Port Alberni, and 504 in

New procedures for electing school trustees led to "an extraordinarily high" number of spoiled and rejected ballots Dec. 12, board member Peter Bunn said at a meeting Monday night. He pointed out that a report by board secretary-treasurer Ernest Shaw, who acted as returning officer for the election, indicated 639 ballots had from Hamilton, Ontario, offers a selection of traditional Christmas songs. (Nanga is pre-empted.) THE BEVERLY HILLBILLIES, 7:30 p.m., Channel 7. (Repeat.) The three productions of Paul Hennings got together a few years ago for a Christmas presentation and that show is repeated here. The program is split up between Hooterville and Beverly Hills, with Granny travelling to the Shady Rest Hotel to cook up a Christmas dinner. Joining the Hillbilly regular cast are Edgar Buchanan, Linda Kaye, Henning, Mike Minor, Lori Saunders, Meredith MacRae, Frank Cady and Tom Lester. A WORLD OF LOVE, 8:30 p.m., Channels 7 and 12. this is billed as a documentary special saluting the world's children at Christmastime, it's really a loaded variety special in part for a group of UN children (at the UN), and in part about children by a huge cast of top entertainers, taped in such places as Wales, Rome and even Las Vegas. The co-hosts at the UN are as Wales, Rome and even Las Vegas. The co-hosts at the UN are Shirley MacLaine and Bill Cosby, with added entertainment by Harry Belafonte, Florence Henderson and the Paul Sills' "Story Theatre." On location, we have Richard Burton dramatizing a Wales Christmas and taking nine roles in the presentation; Barbra Streisand singing "The Best Gift" (a new born child); parties stressand singing. The Best City ta new born chind; Julie Andrews telling us what Christmas in England is like and Audrey Hepburn singing "Silent Night" in English, Italian and Dutch. A unique property is the commercial, a single spot in which the sponsor, International Paper; talks about ecology.

THE MOVIE OF THE WEEK, 8:30 p.m., Channel 4. "The Journey of Robert F. Kennedy" (repeat). If you didn't see this critically acclaimed documentary on the life and death of RFK. try to see this repeat. Almost nothing coming out of Washingtor can be non-political, yet presidential advisor Arthur Schlesinger can be non-political, yet presidential advisor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., managed to make this production more of a dramatic presentation based on one real life story than merely a documentation of a tragic political assassination. The program begins and ends with that terrible murder, pondering its cause and clearly showing its effects. It shows in intimate detail the factors that made up the personal and political life of the former attorney-General and presidential aspirant. It depicts the reasons Attorney-General and presidential aspirant. It depicts the reasons he was called passionate and dispassionate, warm-hearted and told-blooded. Even if Robert F. Kennedy had never lived and this film was based on a fictional character, one would be forced to admit that it is a moving experience.

Tonight's Top Television Shows

TUESDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES, 9 p.m., Channel 5. "White Christmas" (1954), (Repeat). Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Vera-Ellen and Rosemary Clooney star in the umpteenth presentation of this classic musical, whose theme song is certainly the most memorable ingredient. Bing and Danny are the ex-Army buddies now a show business team who run into their ex-Co, the owner of a nearly bankrupt inn in snow-covered Vermont. Dean Jagger is featured. Among the featured songs as "Sisters," "Count Your Blessings" and "Blue Skies."

MARCUS WELBY, M.D., 10 p.m., Channel 4. Farentino, the slick, agressive young lawyer of "The Bold Ones," gives an outstanding performance in a role that might have been gives an outstanding performance in a role that might have been written for his talents. It is rough but sympathetic focusing on a full-blooded Indian who has escaped the poverty of a reservation for himself and his wife by taking a high-paying job as a steelworker in a big city. When he contracts emphysema, Dr. Welby is forced to tell him he must quit and return to the pure air of the reservation. To the otherwise robust Indian, and his pregnant wife, it's like a death sentence.

anxiety what should be done with a baby who has been born with much water on the brain. The technical name for this condition is hydrocephaly (hydro referring to water, and cephaly referring to

An operation has been advised by a neurosurgeon, but the parents are afraid of it. Also, the mother wants to know whether she was to blame in any way for having a defective baby. Could anything she did during the pregnancy have caused the trouble?

The first thing people should know about this is that the brain contains at least two big spaces called ventricles, and these are lines with special cells which produce a watery material which is called cerebral spinal fluid. Normally, this fluid circulates acound the ventricles. Some may go down the spinal cord, and some may go over the surface of the brain, and from all these areas it is absorbed as rapidly as it is formed. It serves as a cushion for the brain and the spinal cord.

What happens in certain infants is that for no known reason either the hole through which the brain fluid leaves the ventricles becomes plugged up, or in some way the absorption of the fluid into the brain is abnormal so that more liquid comes into the infant is very soft) becomes bigger, and eventually the process begins to damage the brain tissue so that it interferes with the intelligence of the child. If nothing is done to relieve the pressure, the child is likely to die or perhaps to be permanently brain-damaged and perhaps paralyzed.

In recent journals I read that at present there are at least two methods of draining the brain. One method drains the fluid into the abdominal cavity, and the other drains it into one of the large veins in the upper chest or neck. The tube is fitted with a one-way valve which keeps the fluid coming out of the brain and

In many cases, this operation sayes the child's life and intelligence; it saves him from getting a greater and greater accumulation of fluid in his skull.

Fortunately, this is a rare disease, and it does not seem to be familiar. It is very doubtful that the mother in any way could have started this process or could have acted in such a way as to prevent its happening during her pregnancy.

Jameson Steps Down As School Board Head

Dr. Carron Jameson, Greater Victoria School Board chairman, stepped down Monday night.

Jameson, who succeeded Trustee Peter Bunn as chairman in 1968, said he found the position enjoyable but arduous, enough for anyone to hold for two years.

Jameson was re-elected to his fifth term on the board in the Dec. 12 election. The board said goodbye to two old members at the meeting.

George Curran, elected in 1960 to represent Saanich and re-elected in every election to 1968, resigned this fall of 1970.
Les Karagianis, elected in a byelection in 1964 from Esquimalt, didn't run this year.

Holly Heaven Here

By HILDA BEASTALL

On the Pacific coast we are in the fortunate position of seeing holly trees in flower during May, watching the crop slowly maturing during summer and then revelling in the ready made decoration afforded by the trees of ripened berries for many weeks of late fall and all of winter. This is the so-called English-holly, Ilex aquifolium, native to Great Britain and other mild parts of Europe. It is not hardy enough to survive continuous low temperatures nor long hot, dry summers, but thrives here in the mild oceanic climate of Vancouver Island.

One of the native North American hollies, Ilex opaca, is also a handsome ever green shrubby tree, having the same shining dark green spiny leaves and bright red berries but they are borne less freely.

These trees suffered from being overcut for commercial sales in the eastern United States where it grew wild, but it is still seen occasionally on hills in Massachusetts and New Although slow growing, holly trees are well worth space Affiduals slow growing, nony trees are well worth space in gardens, either large or small for they are long lived. They are impractical to raise from berries for it will be many years before the gardener is likely to see any fruiting of the seedlings.

Perhaps one out of 20 seedlings will produce berries and then they may not be either large or profusely borne.

Rooting of cuttings is slow and uncertain, so that grafting rooting of cuttings is slow and different, so that gracting or budding is resorted to commercially to raise quantities all true to the desired form.

Variegated hollies are particularly attractive to almost everyone seeing them for the first time. If you want a living tree, see various kinds in local nurseries before

There are dark green leaves with golden edges, and others with large golden splotches on the dark green. These light up a group of conifers as though with sunshine on a dark day.

Silver hollies are white variegated and therefore not so brilliant, yet quite useful for quiet interest near a group of winter followering leafless shrubs. Some hollies bear yellow berries in place of the traditional red.

In most kinds, the male (or non-berrying) and female (the berrying) flowers are on separate trees and must be grown close enough for pollination to be affected. These are diocectous.

Some newer varieties have both sexes of flowers on the same tree and are therefore monoecious — self-pollinating.

Hollies like a well drained, rich soil, a fair amount of sun.

from becoming dry at the roots. In periods of low humidity, either summer or winter, a frequent fine hose spraying of water is greatly appreciated by these lovely symbols of Christmas festivity.

U.S. Oil Imports Increased

WASHINGTON (CP) -President Nixon issued today a proclamation increasing 1971 oil imports by some 100,000 barrels a day, much of it from Canada.

The proclamation made a series of adjustments in oil import regulations which have been in effect since 1959.

From the Canadian view. nuch of the proclamation was omewhat anti-climactic in that greater oil imports from Canada in 1971 had been announced earlier at the United States-Canada ministerial meeting in Ottawa last month and in Nixon's Dec. 4 peech in New York on the S. economy.

George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, said Tuesday that imports from Canada, now limited to 395,000 barrels a day, would be increased by 55,000 barrels to a new authorized rate of 450,000

This 55,000-barrel increase had-been the figure recom-mended earlier by Lincoln's In addition, importers unable to use their quotas or "tickets" for other foreign oil may apply them to imports from Canada. Nixon had announced this new arrangement in his New York speech.

In practice, Canadian imports will effectively be limited to pipeline and trans-USC Donations Work After Tragedy portation capacity. This was the only limitation mentioned in the Ottawa ministerial talks. But Nixon also authorized Tuesday Cadadian imports over inland waterways as well as over land.

Addition Planned For PGE Line

New Track Will Cost $17 Million

VANCOUVER (CP)-Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced Monday that the British Columbia government - owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway will call tenders for construction of 100 miles of new line north of Takla Lake, 450 miles northwest of Vancouver.

Cost of the extension will be about $17 million, the premie said following a meeting with the PGE board of directors. Mr. Bennett is president and chairman of the railway.

He said his objective is not only to open up the rugged wilderness country, but also to increase employment.

Asked if the latest step in the PGE's northward march another hint that he would ke the Yukon to join B.C. Mr. Bennett said: "I've withdrawn that offer."

WITHDRAW OFFER

He said the offer was withdrawn at the last federalprovincial conference when Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau displayed a map of Canada that showed the Communists to militant Yukon separate from B.C.

The premier said Mr. Tru-deau pointedly explained that the map showed the province's true size and place in Canada.
"Then I withdraw the offer,' I told the prime minister," said Mr. Bennett.

At an earlier conference in Ottawa, the premier had presented a map on which B.C. took in the Yukon and part of the western Northwest Territories. The enlarged province would have been one of five new regions replacing the present 10 provinces.

NORTHWEST PUSH

Mr. Bennett said the PGE now has been extended north west of Prince George into Fort St. James and construc tion is under way to Takla Lake, 78 miles northwest. This section is to be completed in early spring.

The latest northwest extension will take the line to within about 140 miles of Dease Lake, ultimate destina tion of the line, and 75 miles south of the B.C.-Yukon border. Mr. Bennett predicted the Dease Lake terminus will be ompleted in 1974. He also announced that the board had confirmed an in-crease in PGE pensions, both for those now retired and for employees who contribute to the voluntary pension plan.

SCOTCH AND WATER FOR DAVY JONES

AARHUS, Denmark (Reuter) — Thirty tons of scotch whisky bound for the Swedish Christmas market went to the bottom of the North Monday when the captain of a West German ship had to ditch the whisky to save his ship.

The whisky was in two of 22 15-ton containers jettisoned when the container ship hit rough weather and was in danger of capsizing.

Polish Rebellion Justified—China

By LEE LESCAZE

HONG KONG (WP) - China today said the Polish workers rebellion was fully justified and illustrates the bankruptcy of Soviet policies in Eastern Europe.

Gomulka Blamed

WARSAW (CP) - A Com munist party newspaper charged today that under Poland's old regime the country was ruled by onesided commands and a narrow circle.

The paper did not mention the name of Wladyslaw Gomulka, the Communist party chief who stepped down Sun-day on the heels of bloody rioting by workers. But it was clear he and his close associates were the targets Party newspapers had been blaming the riots on "hooli-gans and adventurers" but now they were putting the blame on Gomulka. "Everybody should feel responsible for what he's doing," said Zycie Warszawy, or Warsaw Life. "But there is no responsibility without in-dependence: He who says, 'I am taking the full responsibility,' releases the others from it. He who says, 'I always know best,' releases others from the duty to think MAY RESIGN

"The fact is for some time past the dialogue between leadership and people has been cut off and replaced by on e-sided commands-ofte decided upon in a very narrow circle."

There were rumors in the capital that Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz, once credited with helping to bring Go-mulka to power in 1956, may resign or be made

In a strongly-worded attack in Moscow and Poland's party leadership, China applauded the workers' upapplauded the workers' up-rising and predicted the fall of Poland's party chief Wiadyslaw Gomulka "in no way means the end of the evolutionary struggle." China equated Poland with

"Czechoslovakia and other eastern European of which it said are kegs that can explode at any time." The Chinese com-mentator writing in the party newspaper People's Daily said that Poland's leadership has been following "the Soviet revisionists against the interests of the Polish people."

'VAIN ATTEMPT'

The article also said Russia had begun to deploy troops "in a vain attempt to help the Polish revisionist authorites" stamp out the rebellion. As broadcast by Peking radio, the article warned that by using its troops, the Soviet Union would only provide "a more vigorous revolutionary struggle of the Polish people and people of other eastern European countries against Soviet revisionism."

China's decision to issue its

"warm congratulations" to Poland's workers at this time is not in keeping with Peking's slow and cautious response to foreign developments, analysts here pointed out.

It is not surprising that China, which condemned the Soviet's 1968 invasion of Czechoslovakia, has also attacked the Soviets over the Polish rebellion, analysts here believe, but China has un-characteristically spoken out while the Polish situation is still somewhat in flux.

Colin Richard Lucas, 51, a former Canadian citizen and director of the public library of San Bernardino, Calif., was today named by the Greater Victoria Library Board as its director of library services. Lucas, born at Ocean Falls, B.C., takes over his duties March 1, replacing the former chief librarian, John Lort, who resigned at the board's request Nov. 1 after a controversial disagreement with the board on how the main library's services should be updated.

In making the announcement, board chairman Ald. Arthur Cuthbert of Esquimalt said that Lucas was chosen from 30 applicants-15 Canadians and 15 Americans.

Lucas, a naturalized American, has applied for Canadian citizenship, Cuthbert added.

Cuthbert said that Lucas, endorsed unanimously by both the selection committee and its technical advisers, will be given "full authority" to streamline and revamp library facilities and eventually recommend to the board his assistant

"We are all very impressed with Mr. Lucas' ability and he has already approved the alterations to be made in the library during its closure from Dec. 28 to 31."

Radio Warsaw report

Nothing has been said officially but the current presi-dent, Marian Spychalski, is not expected to keep the position much longer.

Warsaw state radio revealed for the first time today that Wroclaw, formerly the German city of Breslau, had been hit by a strike.

The broadcast said: "The crew of the railway yards promised to work extra hours to make up loss of production due to a strike last week."

Plane flights and telephone links to Gdansk, first scene of bloody clashes, were restored today. Officials said planes were also going in to Szczecin, a nother riothit town, but phones are not operating.

A Western source in Gdansk said in a telephone conversation that a dusk-to-dawn curfew was still in force but there were no more tanks in the streets.

Westerners in Warsaw said they expect the regime of Gomulka's successor, Edward Gierek, to be more pragmatic and its decision-making to be less of a one-man operation.

EXPECT ACTION

The new leadership is com-posed of "people who get things done," said one West-ern source, "although the leadership will probably be more collective until Gierek finds his feet. Gomulka was patriarchal. He didn't like to consult anybody and would make his decisions alone."

Gierek replaced Gomulka Sunday as first secretary of the Communist party and five new members were named to the 12-man politburo, re-placing Gomulka and four others purged with him. Although Gierek promised an overhaul of the economy and revision of the new five-year plan, Warsaw radio said Monday there will be no retreat from the 17-to-20-per-cent price increases which last week set off the riots that brought Gomulka down.

"We must be aware of the fact that there is no possi-bility to return to the preouity to return to the preprice system," the govern-ment radio said. It added that the new regime will carry out central committee orders to alleviate the economic problems of poor families with several children, and this heightened expectations increases to offset the Leonid Brezhnev, Soviet Communist party chief, sent congratulations to Gierek and expressed the hope that the Polish party "will successfully overcome the difficulties which recently occurred. The message praised the new first secretary as a "sincere friend of the Soviet Union."

SENT MESSAGE

Westerners speculated that Brezhnev or one of his Kremiin subordinates engi-neered the changes during a weekend trip to Warsaw. One diplomat said: "It's highly

Alderman Guilty

WINNIPEG (CP) - An winnipeg (CP) — an alderman in the Greater Winnipeg city of West Kildonan has been found guilty on a charge of creating a disturbance in a public place. George Strewchuk, 60 deorge Strewchuk, 60 by years, was fined $200 by Magistrate John J. Enns Monday in provincial magistrates court.

A second charge, of assault causing bodily harm, was dismissed.
The charges arose out of an incident on Sept. 27 in front of a house which Ald. Strewchuk owns and rents.

Court had been told earlier that Ald. Strewchuk and his son had attempted to stop tenants from leaving the house until back rent was paid. Police officers arrived on the scene and an alterca-tion apparently took place between Ald. Strewchuk and the police officers.

Two Heads Are Better Than One

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) Bud Schloffman's red-eared turtle eats and sleeps at the same time, and can almost see where its going and where it's been simultaneously.

That's because it has two perfectly formed heads and four front legs but only two hind legs and one tail.

Schloffman said the turtle is two months old. It came from a Louisiana hatchery.

The turtle's two heads. which are the same size, function independently. Sometimes they enjoy their meals together, and at other times one will sleep while the other rests, or sleeps, Schloffman says.

It appears to be healthy, but if it is going to have prob-lems, Schloffman says, it might result from a lack of communication, particularly in deciding in which direction to go, or whether to go at all. The pet store owner says he expects the turtle to live a normal lifetime of more than a dozen years.

VIKING DEFENCE HELD OPPONENTS TO TOTAL OF 143 POINTS First Game Showed That Purple People Were Tough

When the National Football League season opened last September, there was some suspicion that the Purple People were ready to be eaten.

Minnesota Vikings, 23-7 vic-tims of Kansas City Chiefs in the preceding Super Bowl game, had to meet them again without Joe Kapp at quarterback and with Carl Eller, their all-pro defensive end, out of shape after reporting late to training camp.

. The morning of the game, coach Bud Grant showed the Vikings the film of the Super Bowl rout, just to refresh their memory. In the afternoon, Minnesota thrashed the Chiefs 27-10.

That started the club off to its second consecutive 12-2 season, the best in the NFL and a ticket to a home date with San Fran-cisco '49ers Sunday in the first round of the playoffs.

Dallas Cowboys entertain De-troit Lions Saturday in the other National Conference semi-final. In the American Conference, Cincinnati Bengals visit Baltimore Colts Saturday and Miami Dolphins tackle the Raiders at Oakland Sunday.

When we started off the season beating the Chiefs it got us off to a good start," said Minne-sota centre Mick Tingelhoff. sota centre Mick Tingeinott. "We just went to work from there on.

The Viking defence held the opposition to an NFL low of 143 points, intercepting 28 passes along the way and the offence startled its critics by scoring 335 points, the third-highest in points, the third-highest in the league. Place-kicker Cox accounted for 125 of them, a league scoring record.

Kapp, who came to the Vikings after a contract dispute with British Columbia Lions of the Canadian League, left them under similar circumstances and suffered with the lowly Boston Patriots while Gary Cuozzo took over as No. 1 quarterback

The '49ers, who had to go down to the wire to edge Los Angeles Rams for the West Division title, were too happy about gaining their first playoff berth in history to worry about the frigid midwestern weather. They played the Vikings in a owstorm a year ago and lost

"We'll just forget about the weather and play ball," said coach Dick Nolan, whose club

Like Kansas City, which failed to make the playoffs, the Cowboys have reason to of an opponent intent on

The last time Detroit quarter back Greg Landry came to Dal-las he was starting his first NFL game and the Lions were trampled 59-13.

That was in 1968 and the Cowboys have no illusions that things will be the same Satur-

"He has that experience now and can recognize defences," said Jerry Tubb, their line-backer coach. "He knows what ered. He's the best running quarterback in the league."

Both clubs have 10-4 records, Dallas finishing with five secutive victories for the East Division title while Detroit made the playoffs as the runner-up with the best won-lost

Baltimore, 11-2-1, expects to have the injured Johnny Unitas back at quarterback against Cincinnati, 8-6, in a battle of American Conference division

Miami, the AFC's top runnerup at 10-4, may face Oakland, 8-4-2, without defensive tackle Manny Fernandez, who has a shoulder separation.

But the Dolphins barely Sunday as they slaughtered Buffalo Bills 45-7 with quarterback Bob Griese continually varying his signal-calling cadence draw his opponents offside. Coach Don Shula is not counting on the gimmick to fool the Raider defence, which he calls tough, bump-and-run type that never gives you room."

"They're always tight on receivers and really challenge

Let's see now, when all this football madness began back in September, it was crystal clear in some quarters who would win it all. But that was in September, and with what proyed to be an almost careless disregard for the sensitiveness of others, 'y'r agent humbly suggested who would be playing whom this Saturday and Sunday.

Well, the puzzle is over, and if anything is clear now it's well, the puzzle is over, and it anything is clear now it's that your agent if not always right, is never wholly wrong either. How's that for waffling? Or, if you wish, the selections at that time were Baltimore, Cleveland and Kansas City in the American Conference divisional races, and Dallas, Detroit and Los Angeles in the National.

That makes it three out of six with the help of the wild

The Lions actually were picked to beat out Minnesota, and actually might have done it too except for a couple of lost moments late in two games. Which is why faith will be propagated, and the Lions sustained for the moment.

It was the Lions, remember, who were victimized in New Orleans that memorable day when Tom Dempsey kicked a 63yard field goal. You may recall the incidents leading to this fabled boot. The Lions had staged a spectacular rally to take a 17-16 lead with only 11 seconds to play. Then the Lions kicked off. Eleven seconds! The game was in the bag. But was it? With just two seconds to play Dempsey's foot hit the ball, and the Lions had lost. Some called it an angelic kick. The Lions had other words for it.

The other stunner. That came just one week later. The The other stunner. That came just one were leading 20-Lions had played the mighty Vikings even and were leading 20-17. There was less than two minutes to play and the ball was at midfield. The Lions were in—almost! But no. Gary Cuozzo connected on a 49-yard touchdown pass and Minnesota had won a game Detroit was unlucky to lose.

Now the point of the story is that if the Lions had won those two games, they could have won divisional honors. As it is they can best be identified now as the club that had to win five in a row, four of those against divisional leaders, and the last against Green Bay, to capture that coveted extra playoff

That explains Detroit, and probably writes off Los Angeles

That explains Detroit, and probably writes off Los Angeles as well. For it was the Lions who knocked off the Rams when they had the western title in their grasp.

Cleveland, which figured to be a cinch, had no excuses, and faltered badly at the end. Upstart Cincinnati came on strong with seven victories. This confounded all the experts. As expected, however, it was a two-team race between Oakland and Kansas City in their division. The difference? Oakland had George Rlanda (and perhaps some help from above). Kansas George Blanda (and perhaps some help from above). Kansas City didn't, and didn't measure up as defending Super Bowl champs, either. The other surprise was Miami. The Dolphins did a mid-season turn around and at least have momentum in

The winners for this week? The mind boggles again, for not

Cincinnati at Baltimore: Johnny Unitas, in this book is still the No. 1 quarterback in the business, and the Colts have too much savvy and playoff experience for their expansion rivals.

San Francisco at Minnesota: League records mean little when two powerhouses meet; and this could be a classic. The west coast fear is it may come up cold, and if it does, Viking coach Bud Grant's old cold-power approach may come to the is having a fabulous year and could change it all around for the '49ers. Minnesota in a real squeaker, by three.

Miami at Oakland: They should be throwing the ball all over the field in this one, if it stays dry, and it could be a highscoring battle too. Miami has come on very strong in the latter season, but Oakland often does the impossible with almost no time left to do it in either. Blanda . . . er Oakland,

Detroit at Dallas: If the deductions have been obvious up to now, this one should be a cinch. It should be, except that Dallas is long overdue. So is Detroit, for that matter. But the game is in Dallas, confusing isn't it? The gamblers may have other odds to offer, but for consistency of performance as opposed to an explosive attack, that doesn't always explode. The nod here has to go to the Lions.

The margin: Six points. So there you have it, the unabridged pre-Christmas version, completely devoid of sentiment, and if not right, not all wrong,

LINE COACH SHIFTING FROM LIONS TO LIONS?

VANCOUVER (CP) - The Province says Bill McPeak, offensive line coach with Detroit Lions of the National Football League, has been offered the job as executive general manager of the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football

It quotes McPeak as saying he was "very much interested" in the offer to fill the newly-created post with the club. He played for Pittsburgh Steelers between 1949 and 1957 and Washington Redskins from 1961 to

Sports columnist Eric Whitehead says the club had considered hiring Eagle Keys, coach of Saskatchewan Roughriders, to replace Jackie Parker, Lions' coach, who would then become executive general manager, but this back-

LONDON (CP). - British Rail's recent decision to stop transporting racing pigeons no way ruffled the feathers of pigeon enthusiasts in Britain. The sport's staunch flock of supporters now will convey the valuable wings to race meetings by road, Man Leon-ard Lewis, a Homing Union secretary, said.

"The sport will become more independent in future," he added.

Since the beginning of the century, British Rail and homing unions have worked together. Trains took large numbers of racers to country stations near meetings and railwaymen released them. But after the closure of many of these stations 10 years ago Lewis explained, more owners were having to make their own way to meetings which had become inaccessible by

The custom of giving presents at winter festivals existed before Christ's birth. The Romans gave branches of olive, laurel and myrtle—symbolic of happiness, affection and health, to their rulers. They also gave "good luck" gifts to their friends. The rich gave to the poor during the Saturnalia. These customs were part of the origin of our present day practices.

COMPENSATION AT 3% OVER 30 YEARS

Chile Nationalizes Copper Mines

SANTIAGO, Chile (Reuter) - President Salvador Allende signed a draft bill Monday night providing for nationalization of the country's giant copper mines and said that the American owners would be paid compensation.

The bill goes to Congress today and is virtually assured of passage since the country's largest single party, the Christian Democrats, have expressed agreement in principle with the ruling Marxists that the country industry that the copper industry should be nationalized.

The bill would mean an extra $70 million a year in revenue for Chile. "This is aggression against the North American people or against the United States government," Allende said. "We are going to pay compensation to the concerns."

After initialling the draft at the presidential palace, Allende told a huge crowd from the balcony: "The payment of compensation will be over 30 years and with threeper-cent yearly interest with-out adjustment, and it will be suspended if the affected (companies) obstruct nationalization."

But he warned that it was possible "an international conspiracy may be unleashed" and he called on the Chilean to be

EAST GERMANS END TRAFFIC HARASSMENT

BERLIN (UPI) - East German Communists ended today 72 hours of interference with Berlin traffic that demonstrated their grip on the western outpost's lifelines to the West.

Western Allied officials said the harassment was part of an Eastern campaign to cut the lines to West Germany that make West Berlin in effect a state of the West German Federal Republic.

The traffic delays at checkpoints on roads to Berlin running through East Germany that began at noon Saturday ended at noon today.

Bennett to Open B.C. Festivities .In California

U.S. Oil Imports Increased

WASHINGTON (CP) -President Nixon issued today a proclamation increasing 1971 oil imports by some 100,000 barrels a day, much of it from Canada.

The proclamation made a series of adjustments in oil import regulations which have been in effect since 1959.

From the Canadian view, much of the proclamation was somewhat anti-climactic in that greater oil imports from Canada in 1971 had been announced earlier at United States-Canada ministerial meeting in Ottawa last month and in Nixon's Dec. 4 eech in New York on the U.S. economy.

George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, said Tuesday that imports from Canada, now-limited to 395,000 barrels a day, would be increased by 55,000 barrels to a new authorized rate of 450,000

This 55,000-barrel increase had been the figure recom-mended earlier by Lincoln's In addition, importers unable to use their quotas or "tickets" for other foreign oil may apply them to imports from Canada. Nixon had announced this new arrangement in his New York speech.

In practice, Canadian imports will effectively be limited to pipeline and transportation capacity. This was the only limitation mentioned in the Ottawa ministerial talks. But Nixon also authorized Tuesday Canadian imports over inland waterways as well as over land.

Gomulka Blamed

WARSAW (CP) - A Com munist party newspaper charged today that under Poland's old regime the country was ruled by one-sided commands and a narrow circle.

The paper did not mention the name of Wladyslaw Go-mulka, the Communist party chief who stepped down Sun-day on the heels of bloody rioting by workers. But it was clear he and his close asso-

how they were parting the blame on Gomulka.

"Everybody should feel re-sponsible for what he's doing," said Zycie Warszawy, or Warsaw Life. "But there is no responsibility without in-dependence. He who says." dependence: He who says, 'I dependence: He who says, 'I am taking the full responsi-bility,' releases the others from it. He who says, 'I always know best,' releases others from the duty to think.

"The fact is for some time past the dialogue between leadership and people has been cut off and replaced by on e-sided commands-often decided upon in a very narrow circle."

There were rumors in the apital that Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz, once credited helping to br mulka to power in 1956, may resign or be made president, a purely ceremonial post. Continued on Page 2

In a strongly-worded attack on Moscow and Poland's party leadership, China applauded the workers' up-rising and predicted the fall of Poland's party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka "in no way means the end of the revolutionary struggle."

China equated Poland with
"Czechoslovakia and other eastern European countries, which it said are "powder-kegs that can explode at any time." The Chinese commentator writing in the party newspaper People's Daily said that Poland's leadership has been following "the Soviet revisionists against the in-terests of the Polish people."

'VAIN ATTEMPT' The article also said Russia had begun to deploy troops "in a vain attempt to help the Polish revisionist authorities" stamp out the rebellion.

broadcast by Peking Radio, the article warned that by using its troops, the Soviet Union would only provide "a more vigorous revolutionary struggle of the Polish people and people of other eastern European countries against Soviet revisionism.

China's decision to issue its "warm congratulations" to Poland's workers at this time is not in keeping with Peking's slow and cautious response to foreign developments, analysts here pointed out.

It is not surprising that China, which condemned the Soviet's 1968 in vasion of Czechoslovakia, has also at tacked the Soviets over the Polish rebellion, analysts here believe, but China has uncharacteristically spoken out still somewhat in flux
